William Frost is an active volunteer serving on committees at the St. Charles County and St. Louis REALTORS Associations. He is co-founder of Evergreen Property Inspectors and brings thirty-five years of construction and operations management experience. When he is not in the field performing commercial property or home inspections, he is helping with marketing, training and improving the operations efficiency for his team of inspectors.

William enjoys spending family time with his wife, three children, eight grandchildren, four siblings and the rest of the extended family throughout the greater Saint Louis Region. He is enjoying all that life has to offer and you'll often see him at sporting and music events around town. He grew up in the Saint Louis region and after serving in the US Navy as an electronics technician, he returned to the area where he obtained his Bachelor's in marketing and Master's degree in information technology. William holds numerous designations and licenses and is always seeking ways his company can give back to our industry by providing industry leading service, efficiency, and innovation.
